A Sensation at Newport. Newport society has had a social sensation, inasmuch as two wealthy bachelors of title, who have been feted during the season, gave a ball in acknowledgment of the courtesies shown them, and created a new order of things by doing away with any chaperon on the occasion. The ball was given on Tuesday evening at the Golf Club, by Count Vichy and Count Hadik. There were two bands of music, the plazzas were inclosed in bunting and decorated with plants, and supper was served at small Count Hadik led the cotillion with Mrs. W. Butler Duncan, jr. The tavors, which were decidedly unique, were distributed from a goat cart covered with American beauty roses and smilax. The goat was inclined to keep smilax. The goat was inclined to keep time in his own peculiar manner with the music, but was held in check by a pretty little girl, who drove him with gay colored harness. The distribution was made by a boy dressed as a page of the Austrian court, while the girl driving the eart wore the costume of an Austrian peasant. Among the favors were canary birds in flower-decked cages, musical instruments, gold balls and sticks, archery sets, ballor us, flowers, swhes deconated with the Austrian flag and bottles of various sizes labeled with well-known names of brands of chanpagne, Burgundy and "Jersey lightning" One of the most novel, as well as mirch-provoking figures, was a white sheet particled with small holes. On one side of the sleet were ranged the women and on the other the men. The first person spied through one of the holes was the partner selected. In order to complicate and amuse the guests, the hous of the sleening establishments a dummy figure, which, perfectly dressed, caused a number of the men to mistake it for a desirable partner.
